Councilmen Suggest Means Of Raising City Revenue

Elementary School Tax Set At $1.55

The addition of a five cent recreation tax will bring the Jefferson Elementary school district tax rate to a total of $1.55 per $100 valuation next year. Present tax rate is $1.50.

Elementary school trustees approved the 1955-56 $1,751,198 preliminary budget at a meeting Friday night. The 1954-55 budget was $1,628,880.

A motion to approve the preliminary budget, including the recreation tax, was passed unanimously by the board. Absent from the meeting was Trustee Henry Kraus.

Largest percentage increase in the 1955-56 budget is seen under the community services heading, with $16,500 allocated this year as compared to $3,300 last year. The five cent recreation tax will provide the $16,500.

BROADMOOR AND DALY CITY HAVE QUIET FOURTHS

Both Daly City and Broadmoor had quiet Fourth of July weekends with a total of only three minor accidents.

While only two accidents occurred in Daly City this year, last year saw a total of six.

First accident this past weekend involved a three-car pileup at the intersection of Skyline and Alameda on Friday. Police said a car driven by Edward A. Horton, 39, 65 Upland drive, San Francisco, crashed into a car driven by Ralph Vincent, 48, 3673 Jackson street, also of San Francisco. Vincent's car, in turn, piled into an auto driven by Henry Hartman, 63, 49 Montrose avenue, Daly City.

The second Daly City accident also involved a pileup. Officers said that a car driven by Richard Ciarlanti, 16, 772 Templeton avenue, crashed into a car driven by John T. Dresch, 41, 840 Templeton avenue. Ciarlanti was cited for following too closely behind another car.

Only one incident marred the highways and streets in Broadmoor area over the Fourth of July weekend. Police Chief Ray Savage reported.

Monday at 12:40 p.m. a truck and trailer and an auto collided at Junipero Serra and Briggs street, inflicting only minor damage to both vehicles.

Police said the auto, driven south on the boulevard by Marie Craver, 61, of San Francisco, was unable to stop in time when the truck, driven by Angelo Disperati, 31, of San Jose, made a right turn off Junipero Serra.

Neither driver was cited and there were no injuries.

Savage said they received many calls from parents about the shooting of fireworks, but there were no fires or injuries.

A road block at Mission and School streets and operated by Daly City police stopped 973 persons. The following statistics were released by Traffic Inspector Henry Sundermann:

Faulty lights mechanical defect notices, 84; other faulty mechanical defects, 8; invalid operator's license, 4; faulty registration, 4; and drivers who had been drinking, 2.

At least four ideas are being considered by Daly City councilmen for raising revenue for a capital improvement program here.

Money-raising ventures include: 1. a one-half per cent sales tax, 2. elimination of the 25 cent monthly discount on prompt payment of water and garbage bills, 3. discontinuance of city payment of 25 cents a month toward garbage bills, and 4. a one-tenth of one per cent tax on transfer of home ownership.

The sales tax idea was advanced by Councilman Michael DeBernardi, who suggests that $60,000 to $80,000 might be raised by this means.

Mayor Joseph J. Verducci suggested the idea of discontinuing the water bill discount, which, he claimed, would save the city about $22,000 per year.

Verducci emphasized the fact that ideas presented by councilmen were only suggestions to be discussed as possible solutions to the budget problem.

Third idea presented was also mentioned by the mayor. The city now contributes 50 cents towards the payment of the total $1.80 two-month garbage bill. If the city stops payment of the 50 cents, residents will be required to pay the total $1.80 cost.

"The property owner is not paying what it costs in service as it stands now," Verducci explained. Councilman Del Wilson's idea to (Continued on Page 2)

Michael Callan Named Jefferson Elementary School Trustee Head

Michael Callan was elected to chairmanship of the Jefferson Elementary School District board at a meeting held Friday night. Callan takes the post left vacant by Mrs. Helen Cheatham, who this year declined to run for board membership.

Trustee Mrs. Katherine Mullen nominated Callan on the basis that "he promise to attend meetings."

Callan promised and so was elected.

Jitneys Are Rolling Under Temporary Permit; Asked To Seek PUC Approval

Kirchhubel—Mayor Tangle

The city council Tuesday night approved grant of a dance permit for "The Casbah," 6192 Mission street, but not without expected fireworks from George Kirchhubel, Hilltop Lodge owner.

Tuesday night's action marks the first time the council has approved a dance permit for a local bar since the new dancing ordinance went into effect. Both the Hilltop Lodge and the Starway have been refused permits.

Following grant of the permit to The Casbah, Kirchhubel again badgered the council to reconsider his request.

"I have been done an injustice," Kirchhubel shouted.

"Would you please state your request properly?" asked Mayor Joseph J. Verducci.

Kirchhubel, who is now appealing a decision by the state department of alcoholic beverage control to revoke his liquor license because of alleged narcotics activity at his bar, refused.

"I've stood up," Kirchhubel retorted. "What else do you want?"

Ask Motion

"We would like you to make a proper request," Verducci patiently explained. "Is there a motion from the council that the Hilltop be granted a dance permit?"

Council members were silent. "You're playing for the papers, Mr. Verducci," Kirchhubel screamed.

He continued, "Besides, you're not following the ordinance which says that the council should make an investigation of the bar."

"Maybe we're afraid to go into your place," Verducci laughed. Kirchhubel's argument grew stronger.

"Listen here, I've never done as much as you, and I'm not a school teacher," the tavern owner accused the mayor.

Continues Attack

Verducci looked grim while Kirchhubel continued his attack. "I've been advising councils for years, but this council is the bottom of the barrel," he shouted.

Verducci lost his temper. "Leave this room if you're going to insult us," the mayor ordered.

Kirchhubel, muttering to the spectators about him, slunk back to his seat, but did not leave the council chambers.

Arts, Crafts Again Offered To Children By Rec Department

Once again the Daly City recreation department is offering a summer arts and crafts program. The program has been planned so that a variety of activities will be provided for the children of Daly City from six years through high school age.

Some of the activities that will be offered to the younger children will include cut-paper construction, papier-mache masks and animals, plastic braiding and coloring with paints and crayons. Model building, leathercraft and copper tooling are among activities available to the older group.

The arts and crafts schedule is as follows:

Westlake school, Monday and Thursday, 10 to noon.
Olympia school, Monday and Thursday, 1 to 3 p.m.
Jefferson school, Tuesday and Friday, 10 to noon.
Colma school, Tuesday and Wednesday, 1 to 3 p.m.
Crocker school, Wednesday, 10 to noon.
Crocker school, Friday, 1 to 3 p.m.

Community center, Wednesday, 1 to 3 p.m.

The arts and crafts program will be available to all and will continue until September 2.

Colma, Daly City In Boundaries Battle

Citizens of Broadmoor-Colma-Garden Village-Sterling Park area proposed for incorporation as a sixth class city began preparing reduced boundaries for their municipality Wednesday after receiving an angry rebuttal by the Daly City council Tuesday night.

Under maps filed by the incorporation group last week, at least four areas proposed by the city for annexation to Daly City would be enveloped in the new municipality.

ment of their plan, since annexation to Daly City of a strip of Cont-Bocci estate property in the area up for incorporation is pending. Under state law, no incorporation proceedings can be completed if a portion of the property is awaiting annexation action. The property that provides the council with their "ace in the hole" is a narrow strip east and parallel of Junipero Serra boulevard extending from Daly City limits to Colma town limits.

Noonan and three other members of the incorporation group, meeting with Stites Wednesday, agreed to reduce the scope of their plans "within reason," according to Noonan.

Consider Monday

The new bounds of the proposed city will have to be resubmitted to the boundary commission. According to Stites, the boundaries may be agreed upon Monday night, at which time the council could consider rejection of the Cont-Bocci property annexation and clear the way for an incorporation election.

"We'll have to relinquish some property," declared Noonan. "It's just a question of where and how much."

Noonan says his group seeks to speed the incorporation proceedings so that an election can be held prior to February 1, 1956. In the event incorporation passed, the city would then be formed in time to get on the tax rolls and be eligible for state subsidies.

Also possibly considered by the incorporation group is the fact that in September a new state law, requiring approval of property owners as well as voters on incorporation, goes into effect.

Pressman, 72, Dies After Fishing Trip

A 72-year-old man died here of a heart attack Tuesday upon returning from fishing at Lake Merced.

Dead is Levi Augustus Wooster of 279 Wilshire avenue. Wooster and Milton Reiterman, 294 Wilshire avenue, returned to Reiterman's home at 12:45 after spending the morning fishing.

According to Reiterman, Wooster suffered a heart attack as he stepped from the car onto the sidewalk. Reiterman rushed his friend to the hospital, but Wooster was pronounced dead on arrival.

Wooster, a native of Ohio, is survived by his widow, Margaret; sons, George L. and Walter J. Wooster; daughter, Mrs. Mary Blomquist; and 10 grandchildren. He was a member of Web Pressmen's Union No. 4.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. at Ashley and McMullen's in San Francisco.

$3000 Damage To Car, Garage In Westlake

A fire that apparently started from a burning cigarette did an estimated $3000 to a new model vehicle and garage at 55 Westridge Wednesday night.

Engines 1, 2, 5 and 6, including 20 men, responded to the blaze that started in a '55 model car belonging to Daniel Geraci.

According to the fire department, the auto was nearly gutted and considerable damage was done to the garage floor.

At one point, the entire house was endangered from the flames, according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy. Firemen extinguished the blaze in about 10 minutes.

According to Kennedy, the property was insured.

Fifteen jitneys, operating on a temporary route, made their debut this morning (Friday) as Daly City's form of transportation.

1955 ENROLLMENT AT ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS UP 577 FROM 1954

A total of 4474 children attended the Jefferson elementary schools during June, according to a statistical report issued to the school board Friday night by Superintendent H. Z. Weibel. The enrollment figure shows an increase of 577 students over last year's total enrollment.

Of the total number of children attending elementary schools, boys outnumbered girls, 2324 to 2150.

By grades, total enrollment was as follows: kindergarten, 716; first, 660; second, 592; third, 624; fourth, 428; fifth, 355; sixth, 380; seventh, 380; eighth, 308 and ungraded, 31.

B'MOOR WATER RATE GOES UP 18% AUGUST 1

A water rate increase amounting to approximately 18 per cent will take effect August 1 in the Broadmoor area served by California Water Service Co., the state public utilities commission ruled Tuesday.

The rate increases will produce $13,700 annually for the company and means an average increase of cost per homeowner of 17.4 per cent.

The commission approved the water company's application for rate increase, observing that "the growth of the area has been phenomenal. Approximately $300,000 has been invested in plant and the area contains a population in excess of 5500 persons."

According to the commission, the record shows that amount which the applicant had invested in Broadmoor since 1950 has exceeded the net revenue received from the district.

Daly City Boost In Assessed Values Is County's 3rd Biggest

Daly City shows the third greatest increase in assessed values in the county, according to the annual preliminary assessment summary presented to the board of supervisors this week by County Assessor O. B. Hempstead.

Net Total of assessed value here is $25,319,865, an increase of $3,526,560 over last year. The two cities beating Daly City are South San Francisco and San Mateo, with the first city showing an increase of $5,135,795 and San Mateo one of $4,904,257.

Colma, with an assessed value of $773,615, shows a raise of $450 over last year.

County unincorporated areas show the largest increase of all with a raise of $8,402,243 over last year. Total assessed value for unincorporated areas stands at $444,788,415.

Our Business Is Selling Transportation

As your neighbor, we are not in the business of "pushing" some big deal on you. We are solely concerned with supplying you with the type of transportation you need and want. That's why on new cars we extend the factory warranty for a full year or 12,000 miles... give you a year's free lubrication service.

What About New Car Versus Used Car?

The question often arises in the minds of car owners, should I buy a used car, or a new car? The answer to this depends on many factors, and one of the most important of these is where you buy your used car.

There Is No Substitute For Your Experience

In answering this question, your own experience is the best guide. How many miles do you drive a year? What kind of driving do you do? What is your social position? Do you need your car to make a business impression?

For Some People, A Good Used Car Is An Economy

For example, assume you drive 5 to 7 thousand miles per year. Perhaps your car is used only to take children to school, to go shopping in. We have good used cars that will give you several years of satisfactory service of this type at far lower cost than a new car.

But For Some People, Even The Best Used Car Is A Waste

On the other hand, if you drive over 7 thousand miles per year, make long trips on the highway, must maintain a car in presentable shape because of business and social contacts, you need a Chrysler or Plymouth.

Here's The Best Way To Answer Your Problem

Drive to us, your neighborhood dealer, and talk over your situation. We don't have to try and sell you any particular car, because in new cars, the Plymouth-Chrysler line offers you a wide variety, and our used car stock, while limited, does have some fine selections, and in addition, they are cars we know about because they are not bought from some used car wholesaler, but traded in on new Chryslers or Plymouths.

teachers necessitates another increase. The new budget provides $925,020 for teachers' salaries while last year a figure of $777,763 is shown.

The addition of a custodian plus salary increases raises the cost of operation of the school plant from $85,076 to $106,805.

Unlike the above, the cost of capital outlay for the district will decrease as there are fewer sites to be purchased. While the 1954-55 figure was $263,800, the 1955-56 figure is $160,700.

Undistributed reserve stands at $58,440 in the preliminary budget while last year it was $78,535.

VNA VOTES PAY RAISE INCREASE

The board of trustees of the Visiting Nursing association of San Mateo county voted recently to increase the salary ranges of public health nurses and clerks on the VNA staff to match pay raised effective July 1 for county employees. Mrs. Leonard D. Offield, president, explained that the board took this action because of its policy to keep salaries and employee benefits of the VNA staff at least equal to those of the county, with which it shares the combined public health nursing service.

The action took place at a combination board meeting and luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Offield in San Mateo.

Among staff members present at the meeting was Monica Finn, supervisor, of Daly City.

Westlake Library Branch Opens For Summer At School

The Westlake library branch, stocked with 700 children's books, had its grand opening last Friday. It will be open Tuesdays and Fridays between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. for the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. Rosamond Plummer, children's librarian, will be in charge. She will be assisted by Linda Saarinen and Joanne Aiello, two constant users of the main library.

Five hundred of the 700 books have been provided by the county. The remaining 200 books were bought with money raised in the Westlake school PTA carnival held last December. Books range from pre-school age to teen-age.

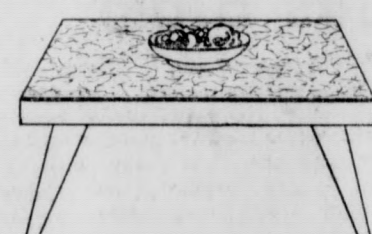

Mrs. Lorraine Rolland, city librarian, reports that the branch library was made possible through the united effort of the elementary school district personnel, the library commission and the Westlake school PTA.

Persons wishing to donate children's books to the library may still do so by contacting Mrs. Rolland.

Distinctive Table Top

IF YOU have a coffee table with a marred top but otherwise good appearance, you can make it like new without a lot of laborious refinishing. And at the same time you can give the table a distinctive feature that it never had—a marble pattern top with a surface that takes abuse.

The simple job is done by applying a new top in the form of a plastic-finished Marlite panel in one of five authentic marble patterns. Widely used for walls and ceilings, the material is available at lumber yards.

Saw a panel to fit, allowing a fraction of an inch for smoothing edges by planing and sanding. Bond the panel to the table with adhesive and leave weights on top until the adhesive is set. Wax the edges or paint them to harmonize with the marble pattern and table finish.

Your new table top, with its baked-on plastic finish over a tempered Masonite hardboard base, will defy attacks by beverages, heat and wear. Damp-cloth wiping will clean it.

Valley Flashing Seals Roof Joints Against Weather

A watertight roof is a home's first line of defense against the weather. Vital to the job of weather protection expected of a sound roof is proper installation of flashing at all junctions and breaks, before the asphalt shingles are laid.

Flashing is material that seals vulnerable roof areas against leakage, for example, the valley where two roof slopes meet at an angle. The flashing generally used for valleys is 90-pound mineral-surfaced asphalt roll roofing, in a neutral color or one that matches the asphalt shingle color.

An 18-inch wide strip of roll roofing is centered lengthwise in the valley and laid with mineral surface down. A second strip, 36 inches wide, is laid centered over the first strip, with the mineral surface up, and nailed in place.

The shingles used on the body of the roof cover most of the flashing and complete its sealing

RESIDENTS PROTEST SAND NUISANCE FROM GV SCHOOL PLAYYARD

Four angry Broadmoor residents protested against the sand blowing from Garden Village school into adjacent yards at Friday night's Jefferson Elementary school district board meeting.

Threat to sue the district if nothing is done about the nuisance was made by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Viat, Sr., of 212 Village Lane and Paul E. Garrity of 215 Village Lane.

"The sand takes the paint off our homes, covers our lawns and kills our shrubs," Viat, the first to speak, told the trustees.

He claimed that residents had been told in 1953 that the area would be completed with grass and a ball diamond.

"I have been forced to put in three lawns since 1953," he added. "We're at a loss and may have to evoke legal action although we don't want to."

Next to protest was Garrity, who claimed that his appearance at the meeting was "preliminary to seeing his attorney."

"I have lost a $300 lawn and am forced to paint my house once a year because of the sand," he claimed.

Vincent Cauchi, 836 Wildwood avenue, Broadmoor, represented the Broadmoor Property Owners association, who also protest the sand nuisance.

Cauchi, chairman of the association erosion committee, told the trustees that "97 per cent of the sand comes from the school."

"May I take back a guarantee that this nuisance will be eliminated?" he asked the board.

The trustees referred the matter to Superintendent H. Z. Weibel.

"Apple Blossom" Flavor Turns Out Big Mistake....

Kathleen Paulsen, 22 months, made one mistake Sunday morning when she decided she liked "Apple Blossom" cologne.

Cologne is most effectively used externally, not internally. Kathleen was rushed by police ambulance to Junipero Serra hospital when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Paulsen of 14 Terrace avenue, found their daughter gulping the cologne.

After having her stomach pumped, Kathleen was returned home.

COUNTY HISTORICAL MUSEUM CLOSSES FOR EXTENSIVE REPAIRS

Beginning last Saturday, the San Mateo County Historical Museum will be temporarily closed to the public in order to carry out extensive alterations.

Under arrangements with the United States Navy the Museum will remain in the building recently vacated by the College of San Mateo, at the corner of Baldwin Avenue and San Mateo drive, in San Mateo. In addition to its present space, it will occupy the room vacated by the College library.

When alterations are completed there will be a front entrance plainly visible to the public and an entirely new arrangement of the museum displays. A principal feature of this new arrangement will be a series of dioramas now being built for the museum.

In information about the Museum may be had by calling the College of San Mateo, or Dr. F. M. Stanger, Museum Director, Diamond 3-3419. Announcement of the date of reopening will be made in due time.

Victor Baher Sr., new member of the group, was named secretary, while Ann Eason was elected vice chairman.

The Greater Daly City Area

Since 1925

WHY A PURCHASING AGENT?

In the face of an acute revenue shortage, City of Daly City has retained the services of a purchasing agent.

This year a city manager was hired, at a salary considerably higher than that paid the man formerly holding the comparable position.

While we realize the manager's duties are already manifold, do the city coffers find room for such a lofty position as a purchasing agent? Could not the manager handle these duties until the city is more solvent? We think so.

And if the money is to be spent wouldn't it be of more benefit to the city to allocate the funds towards eventual hiring of a full-time engineer, a position that has been sorely needed for years and one that could save the city three times what it invests for salary? We think so.

TAXATION MORE THAN BOTHERSOME

Daly City's taxpaying citizens will have that "lean and hungry" look when property tax statements are sent out for the coming year.

Every governmental entity, from the city and schools to the county, will have to call a tax rate increase to meet increasing needs occasioned by the phenomenal urban growth.

The ratio between increase in assessed valuation and increase in demands for services by the populace is lop-sided, with the latter gaining a distinct advantage at the expense of the taxpayer.

Every person who makes his residence in Daly City or other surrounding governmental districts is entitled to services therefrom. We would be the last to deny that.

But the blunt fact is that providing these services, if residential growth continues at the present rate, will be impossible without taxation that borders on the confiscatory.

Politicians are forced into, and citizens complacently yield to, the annual misanthropy known as the tax rate increase. Because they both only view one increment at a time, the prospect is not so grim. But the cumulative effect of all these tax increases is bound to start hurting soon.

Whether the answer to the problem be more industry, per capita charge for sub-dividers or more economy in government or a combination of these three, it would be wise for citizens to consider.

Taxation in Daly City and San Mateo county is downright bothersome now; it could eventually be ruinous.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

BEHIND THE SCENES OF A VARIETY SHOW AND TV AUCTION—"Will someone please go down and pick up talent..." "There's a dressing room down the hallway if you want to put on make-up..." "Hurry, you're on..." and other snatches of conversation reached our ears as we entered KQED's studios for last week's variety show arranged by the Northern California Academy of Television for the benefit of Channel 9, and participated in by over 125 stars of television and show-business. Famous stars were everywhere... signing in at the desk... waiting for their turn to go before the cameras... on camera, giving a plea for the support of KQED... in the coffee room chatting and watching the other performers on a television set. The normally rather quiet studios of KQED were a beehive of activity.

This state of activity and happy confusion began all over again the following Tuesday as one of the longest auctions in TV history was conducted by professional talent from radio and television stations. In the studio piled high with articles donated by merchants and individuals was a battery of telephones manned by volunteers including your columnist who helped out for a couple of hours. A particular item on display would be opened for bid... the telephones would all start ringing... volunteers would call out the highest bid just received over the telephones, and sometimes even before we could write down the address and telephone number, the price bid for the item had gone up. So the excitement continued and finally the object would be sold and a few more dollars would be added to the fund for KQED. These programs were good examples of how a community can support a worthy cause.

In fact, the whole drive for KQED was an impressive united effort by the whole bay area. Though the efforts of all the bay area newspapers, radio and television stations as well as support from all the various community organizations, organized labor, schools, colleges, and all community-minded citizens, the drive has been successful and KQED will stay on the air. General Manager James Day announced that at last week's count around $52,000 had been received, and officials feel confident that by this week-end the full quota will be reached.

Our area contributed its share to that total. In addition to the many contributions sent in by local citizens, a special drive was conducted last week under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Buchanan, chairman of Northern San Mateo County Committee for KQED. An enthusiastic band of volunteers, armed with KQED folders, led by Joe Lewkowicz, owner of the Daly City Super Service station, and decorated with a clever sign painted by Norman E. Werby of New Signs, the group paraded throughout Broadmoor to collect contributions from interested citizens.

The first session ended last week and the second began Tuesday. Three more will follow.

Daly City Kids Take To Water At Jeff High Pool

The second group of Daly City and Coastside children, all over 48 inches tall, took to the water Tuesday in the jointly sponsored Jefferson High-Red Cross swim program.

About 2000 youngsters are expected to participate in the five two-week sessions this summer.

The 48-inch requirement for children is necessary because the shallow end of the pool is only 42 inches.

Classes, for which the cost is only $2 a session, are given for beginners, intermediates and swimmers.

The beginner class is again divided into three groups: "sand-fleas" who take their first venture into the water, "dunkers" who learn to put their faces into the water and then jump into the pool, and "minnows" who begin learning to swim.

Intermediate class swimmers learn strokes and diving. Upon graduating to the swimmer class, students practice endurance, distance and board diving.

Mike Orlich, who when not in charge of the summer swim program is head of the physical education department at the high school, is highly praised for his work.

"One of the most helpful and cooperative men we have ever had the pleasure of working with" is what Jack Dreyfus, San Mateo county Red Cross water safety chairman, says about Orlich.

The swim campaign is county-wide, being sponsored by the Red Cross chapter with six high school districts. A total of 25,000 children are expected, to take advantage of the county program.

Tremendous growth of the campaign is seen in the last few years.

Last year, 15,000 children learned swimming, while five years ago, less than 2000 youngsters entered the program.

The $2 swimming fees go towards maintaining the pools and lockers at the high schools and towards instructor salaries.

Safety News

"What's the answer to the vacation traffic problem? You are, Mr. Motorist."

In these words Inspector H. Sundermann of the Daly City Police department today squarely pinned responsibility for the heavy annual toll of vacation traffic deaths on the drivers themselves.

"It is my firm belief that most vacation-time auto accidents can be laid at the door of impatient and discourteous drivers," said H. Sundermann as he discussed the safe vacation driving program which the Daly City Police department and the National Safety Council are sponsoring this month.

"These Hurry Bugs are so intent on cramming their vacations full of activity and pleasure that they don't take time to drive safely," he suggested a more relaxed attitude as a safeguard for the driver and pointed out that a vacation is a time to take it easy and enjoy a little fun.

"There's very little fun in making an over-ambitious schedule and trying to keep up with it no matter what happens," Sundermann stated. He advised motorists to get an early start each day and to plan to cover just as much territory as they can manage without strain. These two things he pointed out, will remove the pressure to drive at a speed too fast for conditions, to disregard traffic signs and signals and to ignore the ordinary rules of courtesy on the road.

He also warned drivers to be especially careful at night because danger is increased after dark and the driver is likely to be fatigued.

Nonferrous ores, valued at $14,977,062, were the fourth most important import commodity received through the San Francisco Customs District in 1953.

Sincerely,
Officer Art Linhares

Broadmoor Woman Says Change Name To "Dog Arbor"

Dear Sir:

Just finished another clean-up job on my front lawn and with a snarl on my lips, I take my pen in hand. Say, let's all get into this name changing act. Instead of Broadmoor Village I would suggest "Dog Arbor." "Collie Haven" or "Spaniels Retreat."

Early in the morning and in the evening busy little groups of "mans best friends" trot merrily up and down my particular street doing their ever-friendly bit to cement inter-neighborly relationships.

One of our most obnoxious offenders is a large brown and black collie-type friend who visits, digs and uproots his way up one side of the street and down the other, missing hardly a favorite shrub or flower. Even through my sneers, I must marvel at his capacity. He seems most attracted to those plants sprayed with so-called dog repellent.

Another is a north west police "get-your-man" type disguised as a dobermann pinscher who doesn't take "shoo" for an answer.

If you dog owners really loved your pets you'd let them use your own back yards for bathrooms instead of forcing them to wander afield for accommodations.

Can't anybody do something about anything?

Hope this finds you the same.

Irate Villager

P. S. Please do not publish my name and address as some of my little four-legged friends might decide to retaliate.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

Two years ago San Francisco attended the birth of a new musical, "Kismet." Since then this musical has had a successful Broadway run, gone on to further glory in London, won various awards for excellence in musical arrangement, costume design, direction and musical score, and has now returned to the stage of the Curran as the second offering in this year's Civic Light Opera series.

"Kismet" is an Arabian Nights fantasy which tells of Hajji the beggar (William Johnson) who is threatened with death by a brigand (Truman Gaige). By using his wits and with the aid of Kismet, he saves his life, removes a wicked Wazir (Henry Calvin) thereby assuring his daughter (Elaine Malbin) of married bliss with the Caliph (Richard Oneto) and even finds time to arrange for his own future happiness. As the Wazir is wicked, in a Gilbert and Sullivanian way, and as he stands in the path of Hajji's daughter's happiness, his presence is tactfully removed by drowning in a convenient pool. For this good deed, Hajji is suitably rewarded by a luscious morsel (Julie Wilson), the grieving widow of the wicked Wazir.

The principals are given strong support by the surrounding cast, most notably the Princesses of Abahu (Adeline Gaheton, April Gaskins and Robert Stevenson), runners-up for the Caliph's hand. As all Arabian Nights dreams should be, "Kismet" is replete with dancing girls and harem beauties by the dozen, whose costumes are more notable for their quality than quantity. The sets are a joy to behold, evoking the magic of the legendary Baghdad, and throughout the production the romantic music of Alexander Borodin glows with Oriental splendor.

Borrowed Music

It is interesting to know that Borodin, a strikingly handsome man and the natural son of an American prince, successfully combined two lives, both equally demanding—music and science, and achieved acclaim in both.

When music from one of the revered old masters is borrowed for a contemporary musical, with the changes necessary to adapt it to a different medium, there are always those who scream that the R.O.M. is turning in his grave like a whirling dervish. This may very well be true when an overabundance of changes leaves little but the original title intact.

But Robert Wright and George Forrest have adapted Borodin's music so tastefully, that we are reminded of a wonderful cartoon we once saw posted on a music room's bulletin board. Several R.O.M.'s are sitting around in what we must assume is Heaven. In dashes another, joyfully shouting, "Boys, I've made the Hit Parade again!"

A cement plant built in 1909 by the City of Los Angeles at Monolith, Kern County, supplied cement for the Los Angeles aqueduct.

Old Shasta, six miles west of Redding, was settled in 1849 by miners from the American and Feather Rivers and emigrants from Oregon.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

One of the most gala evenings we've heard about was the one on which Clarence and Cleora Read of Beechwood celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Daughter-in-law Maryann had planned a wonderful evening for them, beginning with dinner at Bimbo's 365 Club. Rose Fisher, Martin and Meredith Orloff, Wilma, Anderson, Nellie and Ivor Heskett, May Nichols and Pete and Alice Mayville were dinner guests. High point of the evening was the large white wedding cake, with a sparkler on top, which the maitre d' carried in, accompanied by two of the violinists from the orchestra playing the "Anniversary Waltz." They continued to play until the Reads had cut the first slice of the cake together, with applause and congratulations coming from all the other people in the Club. After dinner, the Reads and their party went to the Top of the Mark, and then to see the UN headquarters in the Fairmont, winding up the evening with a drive up the Twin Peaks road to view the city panorama. A truly wonderful evening for a truly wonderful occasion.

Kay Logan had a birthday last week and had all sorts of surprises, including dinner and a cake on Saturday evening, breakfast and a cake on Sunday morning, and people dropping in all weekend to wish her many happy returns. Queen for a weekend!

More moves reported! The Sinothmans have left Larchmont drive for Bait, and the Bud Christmans' present plans include getting ready for a business transfer to Bakersfield in August. They plan to vacation at Lake Tahoe first, with Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goetz, keeping a watchful eye on the Christmas acreage while they're gone.

Speaking of vacations, our medal for the Bravest of the Brave goes to Bea Gantert and Eileen Crofton, who took ten children, ages 1 through 12, for a week's stay at Guernwood Park up Russian River way, where Eileen's mother has a house. Bea had a sore knee, so Eileen had to do all the running after adventurous small toddlers! Made us out of breath to hear about it!

Our Villagers certainly know how to do things and come to the fore when asked. Verna Duste, Peg Elliott, Bea Gantert, Katherine Mullen and yours truly, under the able chairmanship of Billie Buchanan, put on a Save KQED drive last week, and in the short time available collected around $85 to help the station towards its goal. Peg Elliott, Judy Logan and Judy Beckerman represented the younger set, and worked as hard and brought in as much as anyone. The collectors were preceded, accompanied and followed by Joe Lewkowicz with his sound truck and special trailer advertising the drive to the tune of "Davy Crockett," among others! It was a cold night to be out going from door to door, but the warmth of the genuine interest and desire to help which was found at most homes more than made up for it. Thanks, everyone.

Looks like the stork had to postpone his vacation again. There were several new little girls to be distributed among Broadmoor homes, and it kept him busy. Annelise is the newest member of the Andrew Petros family on Manila, with two Elizabeths, mother and two-year-old sister, to welcome her in. She weighed 7 lbs. 6 oz. Another two year old, Penny Zachman, has a new sister, too. Virginia and Ray now have 6 lbs. 7 oz. April Yvonne running things at their home on Larchmont!

Down on Maddux, Bob and Jodie Hughes now have their second girl, Robin Jo, who is 8 lbs. 10 oz. of Something Special, as far as sister Gail is concerned.

Young Nancy Reichard didn't lose much time being made welcome—father Ken took her first picture when she was 20 minutes old, and has been proudly showing them off! Sister Margot and Brother David, who stayed with grandma in Carmel, are quite excited about their new sister who weighed in at 8½ lbs.

The Lawrence Long family is back on Sweetwood after a week's camping trip to Sequoia National Park, where the weather was nice and hot, and everybody had a wonderful lazy time. Linda, Tommy, Janice and Marjorie thought it was just about the best way to vacation they've tried yet.

Happy birthday wishes for young Tommy Corso (Maddux), who reached the Grand Old Age of 1, with his family on hand to help with the cake-and-candle department. Sweetwood's Steve Mischak was the birthday father of the week, and Kathleen Brown of Washington street joined forces with sister Janice to celebrate a 6th and a 2nd birthday, respectively. Sandra and Cathy Milani, Patsy and Cindy Phillips, Maureen and Linda Garcia, Lee Braun, Jimmy and Julie Zylker, Lilly Bustamante and Stephanie Mischak were there to share the fun.

Bits and Snatches: Did you catch the KQED auction and hear Billie Buchanan bid for and win the children's lamp? Maurine Guyman and Mrs. John Glasse are very busy attending a nursery school course for several weeks this summer. More power to them, when summer usually means relaxation rather than new tasks. There's a new ice cream truck which plays light classical music as it goes on its way through our town—a pleasant change.

Tom and Irene Gonzales up on 87th street have had a full house lately. Tom's brother Joe, who is stationed at Ft. Warren in Cheyenne, Wyoming, came out to spend his two weeks' leave with them, and brought wife Margaret and young Chuckie and Elizabeth along. They had a fine time sightseeing, together with Tom's youngest brother, Danny, who came out with Joe from Denver, Colorado. Danny, who spent his summer vacations here before, is a senior in high school, while Joe is a staff sergeant who has had five years in the Medical Corps.

Agnes Sirianni left her Avon cosmetics at home on 87th street long enough to spend a weekend in Walnut Creek with her sister, Edythe Winn. The Sirianni's young 'uns went too, and found the swimming pool and the warm weather a perfect combination for fun.

Stoneyford's Edyth Mullen joined the Joe Baird family from Daly City for a weekend trip to Yosemite, the most popular place on Villagers' lists, we think—whether for a weekend or a full-size vacation.

Washington street's Barbara and Walt Subke gathered up the Ferguson Mitchells (this was before their departure for New York state), the Danforths and the Morris and went over to Treasure Island for a 9th anniversary party, which lasted till the wee small, we hear!

Along with all the work involved with teaching Vacation Bible School, Dolly LePine managed to find time to visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary A. King, who came down from Sacramento for a week's visit with Dolly and John and the children.

Another anniversary—happy twelfth for Meredith and Martin Orloff, who held open house in their Stewart street home for all their friends and neighbors. Surprise of the evening was the fresh vegetable bouquet given them by Maryann Read and Vi Murphy, with an accompanying poem by Rose Fisher!

Last minute Stork Note—Marleen Rae Johnson has come to Louvaine drive to be with Allen and Ray, complete with 9 lbs. 10 oz. of happiness for her proud parents.

BEAMING SMILES followed the wedding of Miss Barbara Bordson to John E. Price, Jr., at St. Anthony's church in San Francisco. The bride, a graduate of Jefferson High school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bordson of this city. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Price, Sr., of San Francisco. The couple are both employed by the telephone company. They plan to live in San Francisco upon their return from a Lake Tahoe honeymoon.

Barbara Bordson Married To John Price In Recent Rites

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Price Jr. are now honeymooning at Lake Tahoe following recent rites at St. Anthony's church.

The bride (the former Barbara Bordson) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bordson of this city. She attended Jefferson High school and is now employed as a telephone company service representative.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Price Sr. also works for the telephone company where he is an installer. He is a graduate of Commerce high school and served in Southwest Korea with the Signal corps, Third Infantry division.

The bride's wedding dress was of embroidered nylon tulle and fashioned with a chapel train, full skirt and Madonna neckline. She wore a crown of matching tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white orchid with stephanotis and bouvardia.

Maid of honor was Miss Shirley Mullins, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Thimiss Jr., sister of the bride; and Mrs. Jerry Spryberry, the bride's cousin.

All wore ballerina length dresses of pink crystalite fashioned with wide collars of white lace. White hats, shoes and gladiolas completed the costumes.

Ron Lewis served as best man, and ushers were Jim Harrington, cousin of the groom, and Dick Raso.

The groom's mother wore a blue-grey princess dress. Her balero, shoes and hat matched her dress, and her pill-box hat was decorated with white flowers.

Mrs. Bordson wore a toast colored lace dress with a sweetheart neckline and navy blue and white accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Officiating at the wedding was Father Fabian Gussenhoven. A reception was held at the Dove hall on 18th street.

The young couple will make their home in San Francisco upon their return from Lake Tahoe.

Creighton Baffles, Blanks San Diego Padres; Seals May Pit Him Against Sac's Cereghino

Shocked! That was the reaction of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Creighton Sr., 97, Teresa, Daly City, when their 18-year-old son, Lowell Jr., played the roll of giant-killer Sunday as he pitched San Francisco Seals to a three-hit, 1-0 shutout over the league-leading San Diego Padres.

Fresh out of Jefferson High school and linked to a Seal contract only four days earlier, the 5' 11", 185-pound youngster justified the standing ovation given him by 6016 fans when he ambled calmly out of the dugout in early afternoon.

After the seven inning wind-up was over Creighton had inflicted the first shutout on the PCL, pace-setting Padres, and had done what Ex-Cleveland Ace Gene Bearden couldn't do in the opener (Bearden was set down, 4-1).

In Trouble Creighton was in trouble in the initial inning when the Padres got two men on the base with a walk and a single, but he labored out of the spot by subduing Dick Sisler on a force-out.

In the third inning with one out, Pad Mitt Smith doubled and died at third as Earl Raup, the league's leading RBI man, fled out to center.

Creighton walked Sisler in the fourth and then retired the next nine hitters.

In the seventh Creighton found himself in a hole as Catcher Ed Bailey singled to launch the inning.

Johnny Merson sacrificed Bailey to second and Clarence Maddern pinch-hit for Dick Faber. He lined out to right field and the Jefferson graduate was one out away from victory.

Fall Behind Eddie Kazak was then walked and Creighton fell behind the next batter, Al Federoff, 2-0, and activity was evident in the Seal bullpen.

Next pitch was a strike and the next one served up by Creighton was batted back into the glove of Billy Serena and the Daly City kid had chalked up his first statistic in the PCL win books.

Creighton contributed to the run that beat San Diego in the third frame when he laid down a sacrifice bunt to push Nini Tornay to third base. Tornay scored on the next play.

Diamond-side observers said Creighton didn't have too much on the ball, but showed a baffling slow-breaking curve and amazing control. In the race of crises, he showed Ben Hogan-like nerves and this asset is one which home-town fans think will carry the local boy a long way in professional baseball.

Follows Footsteps Creighton apparently is destined to follow in the footsteps of two other Daly City moundsmen, Don Mossi and Ed Cereghino, in the road upward in organized baseball. Mossi is a standout relief pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, while Cereghino, N. Y. Yankee bonus baby, is currently with Sacramento Solons.

In fact, Cereghino and Creighton may do battle this week, when the Seals travel to the capital city. Creighton's next home appearance will probably be a week from today when the Seals take on Hollywood.

Creighton Sr. and his wife expressed "shock" over the way their offspring handled himself. Although striking out only one batter and walking four, Creighton served up an apple that was almost impossible to get past the defense, as evidenced by the three paltry hits made by San Diego.

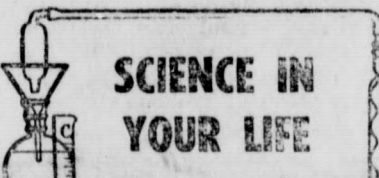

Real Cool Young Creighton was as calm after the game as he was during the ordeal, according to his dad. "He didn't say a thing," according to his father.

Creighton Sr. gave a lot of thanks to Harry Krohn, Vic Baher and Lou Martin in the up-bringing of his son into the baseball hierarchy. Krohn coached Creighton on Sundays, Baher helped him when his arm was raw, while Martin, coach at Jefferson High, worked with the youngster throughout his prep career.

CREIGHTON WINS OFFICIAL PRAISE FROM SM COUNTY

The San Mateo county board of supervisors extended official congratulations to Lowell Creighton Jr. this week for his "outstanding victory over the San Diego Padres."

In a resolution passed Tuesday the board said, "Whereas in his first professional baseball game as a member of the San Francisco Seals, Lowell Creighton Jr. defeated the league-leading San Diego Padres by pitching a masterful three-hit, shut-out game; and whereas this board, as well as all residents of San Mateo county, are justly proud in this accomplishment, this board heartily congratulates Lowell Creighton Jr. for his outstanding victory and wishes him continued success in his baseball career."

How Do Drugs Work?
The complicated chemical structure of a broad-range antibiotic has been tagged successfully with a radioactive atom for the first time. Scientists at the Pfizer Therapeutic Institute, Maywood, N. J., have accomplished the feat with Terramycin after almost two years of research.

The isotope research that produced the radioactive antibiotic was the work of Dr. J. F. Snell, director of the Maywood institute, and his colleagues, Drs. Richard Wagner and Frank A. Hochstein.

Tagged with radioactive atoms, the molecules that make up Terramycin can now be traced in the body as scientists have been tracing similar drugs for some time. This opens up an entirely new field of research into the broad-range antibiotics, whose complicated chemical structures have long defied the best efforts of scientists to discover their mode of action and determine how they produce their life-saving effects.

"If we know how a drug works," Dr. Snell points out, "we will know better how to use it."

In addition, scientists working with the radioactive drug hope to find out what the body may do to the antibiotic. It is possible, they believe, that the body may change an antibiotic into still another compound, different in chemical structure, which may actually do the work against the disease germ.

Scientists also want to know how and where the antibiotic is concentrated in the body, and thus learn whether it attacks the germ at the site of the infection or performs its task in some more indirect manner.

Big Week For DC Fans In Baseball

It is Daly City's bonus week in professional baseball, at least the Pacific Coast League.

Sunday Lowell Creighton, a Daly City hurler, won a game for the San Francisco Seals.

Wednesday another former local topper, Marino Pieretti, lost a game for the Seals—that is he won it for the Sacramento Solons, who were playing here this week.

Pieretti, with a 9-8 record, steered the Solons to a 6-1 win over the tottering San Franciscoans. Marino gave up six hits, struck out two and walked four batters.

Pieretti, who drives a laundry truck in Daly City during the off-season, helps make up the Pacific Coast league's "Big Three" from Daly City. Ed Cereghino, another Daly City hurling standout, is also on the Solon roster.

When the Solons and Seals tangle again this week, there is a possibility all three—Creighton, Cereghino and Pieretti—may see duty on the same evening.

New Johnson's Nine Routs Ellington, 8-2

Johnson's Tamale of Westlake, in their first contest since being re-organized for summer ball, whacked Ellington's sport shop of San Bruno Sunday, 8-2.

Ex-Jefferson chucker Ray Vuillemin was the winner, holding Ellington's to four hits.

The trampoline hit safely 13 times. Catcher Fred Wilson led the bombardment with three for five. Russ Fideef, All-City prep phenom from Balboa, drove across two runs with a single.

Jack Murray is new manager of the Johnson's nine. The team will hit the road during the summer, playing independent clubs throughout the Bay Area counties.

BROADMOOR TEAMS LOSE IN SF PLAY

Broadmoor diamond representatives in the S. F. Recreation league fared dimly last weekend, as the Redlegs were nudged, 3-1, by Vicente Merchants, and the Pirates were shutout, 8-0, by Mission Kiwanis.

The Redleg-Merchant duel was a defensive encounter, as the losing pitcher, L. Woo, gave up only three safeties, while his teammates were held to two bingles, these by Ron Townsend and Matt Dorn.

The Kiwanis gang jumped on Broadmoor Pirate chucksers Joe Millett and Oliveira for a dozen hits, while the losers could garner only three base blows. Cosmos got a pair while Oliveira got the other Broadmoor hit.

"If we know how a drug works," Dr. Snell points out, "we will know better how to use it."

In addition, scientists working with the radioactive drug hope to find out what the body may do to the antibiotic. It is possible, they believe, that the body may change an antibiotic into still another compound, different in chemical structure, which may actually do the work against the disease germ.

Scientists also want to know how and where the antibiotic is concentrated in the body, and thus learn whether it attacks the germ at the site of the infection or performs its task in some more indirect manner.

DC Hardball Team Seen; Need Dough

An eleventh hour appeal for businessmen to sponsor a Daly City merchants hardball team to play in the Peninsula league has been made by Lou Martin, who will coach the proposed ball club.

Martin says sufficient sponsors must be obtained by next Wednesday, or Daly City will go without a representative in the league.

A merchant may sponsor only one player if he so desires, at a cost of $15 or $20. The name of the place of business will be displayed on the player's uniform.

The league actually starts Sunday but fortunately, Martin explained, Daly City has been tentatively placed on the league schedule and draws a bye this week.

Merchants interested in helping sponsor the team may contact Martin at the recreation department, PL 5-0850, extension 18.

To date only one sponsor, Ralph's Cleaners, has been signed. The league will last through September.

Realty 9 Snuffs Men's Club Bid For Softball Win

An aroused OLPH Men's club played championship ball for one inning Wednesday night, only to suffer a 21-8 trouncing at the hands of league-leader Lagomarsino Realty in Daly City Softball action.

OLPH, winless in five previous starts, let loose a seven-run landslide in the opening inning at Marchbanks, only to fall behind in the second when Lagomarsino tallied nine runs, featured by Bob Martinelli's booming circuit clout. OLPH was never in it after that.

In the fifth Realty manager Leo Massoni belted another homer for his club. Bud Lycett, OLPH stand-out, was again hitting star for the vanquished club, getting two for three. Eddie Coleman Jr. and Sr., a father and son duo, each blasted a safety for the Men's club.

Undisputed First
The victory left Lagomarsino in undisputed first place with a 6-0 mark. OLPH holds the same mark reversed, 0-6.

In the evening's second contest played at Jefferson diamond, Ralph's Cleaners, behind a sensational one-hit pitching effort of Mike Orlich, shutout the Eagles, 9-0. Orlich's perfect game was spoiled in the sixth when Jack Smith picked up a scratch single.

The Cleaners led the game in the second frame when Bob Rodriguez smashed a triple with three men on. Ralph's wound up scoring in the fifth with a six-run outburst on the strength of multiple base blows by Eddie Kenna, Rich Watson and Orlich. Stan Nygoski was the losing pitcher.

Police Whip Firemen
Tuesday night the improved Broadmoor police nine, behind the sterling three-hit pitching of Mike Gonzales, handed DC Fire Department their fifth straight defeat, 7-4. Broadmoor chased home the first run in the opening inning when Charley Manning sent George Shinazy home on a tremendous triple to left center. Daly City retaliated on Bob

LINHARES OFF FOR PUBLINX GOLF TOURNEY

Art Linhares, Daly City's golfing policeman, left by plane Tuesday for Indianapolis for the National Public Links Tournament which opens Monday.

Linhares is one of a seven-man San Francisco team formed after recent eliminations.

Also on the local contingent are George Fair and Phil Popovich, both of Sharp Park.

Funds to send Linhares back to Publinx tourney were gained in a recent drive by city officials and the Chamber of Commerce.

Although representing the San Francisco team, Linhares will sign himself from Daly City while participating in the tourney.

Church's homer.

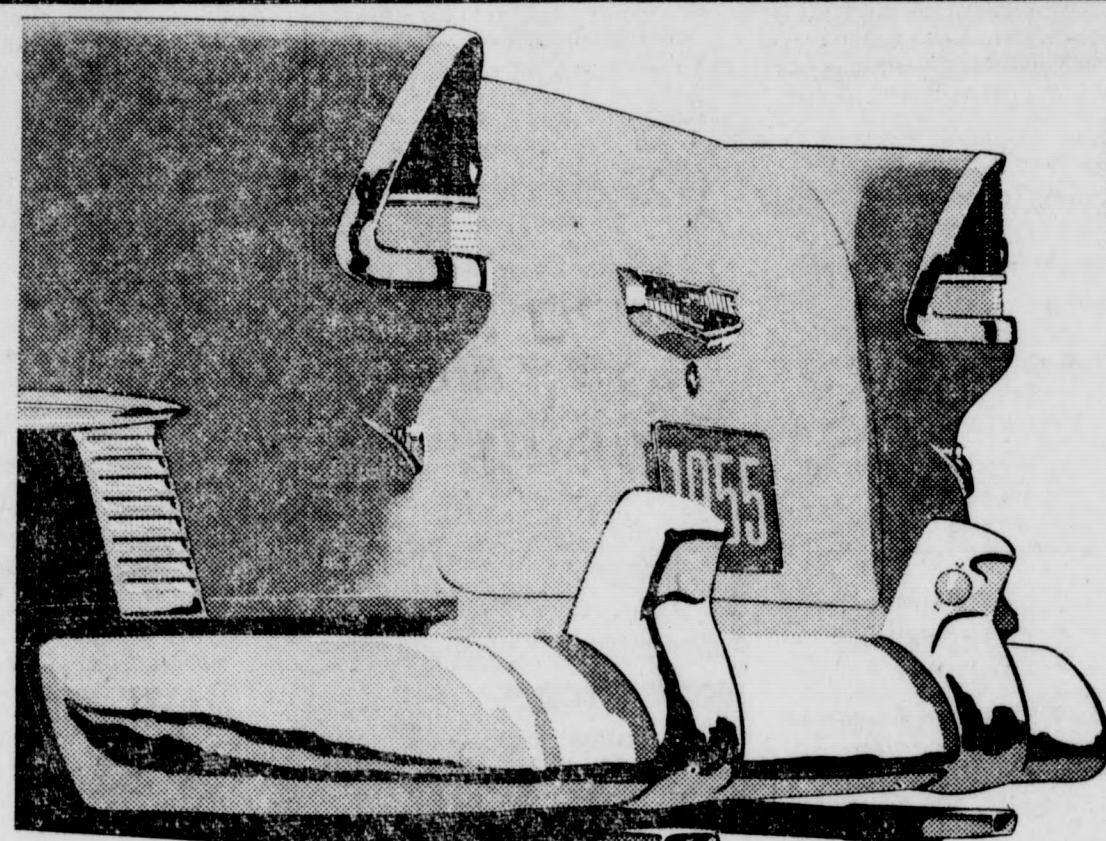

The policemen's big inning came in the second when a pair of walks, coupled with singles by Shinazy and Corwin Berry, drove in three markers.

The cops added another tally in the fifth when Berry, who had tripled, scampered home on Joe Contreras' sacrifice fly.

Daly City had an opportunity to overcome the lead in the final inning when temporary wildness by Broadmoor's hurler loaded the bases. Rich Gonzales powered a double down the right field line, but the next two firemen batters popped up to end the contest.

The evening's second game was awarded DC Drugs by default as Shannon Hardware failed to show.

Next Week's Games
Next week Broadmoor police meet Ralph's at Jefferson on Monday, while Shannon goes against the Eagles on the same diamond the following evening. OLPH and Daly City firemen play at Jefferson on Wednesday.
